

---

発達理論の学び舎

Collected Poems Vol 1 (1-50)

Website: 「発達理論の学び舎」

---

No.1765 光の守護神_A Guardian Deity of Light

---

---

No.1, Time

The past cannot be the future. Yet, the latter can be the former. What does it mean? How is it possible? If you have a distinct time-perception than usual, the answers for those questions would be crystal clear. Groningen; 20:19, 18/1/2021, Groningen

No.2, No-Death

It may sound preposterous, but the dead cannot be dead. Thus, if we can be dead while we are alive, we would not die. Wait. In the first place, we have to answer: Where, what, and who are we? Groningen; 21:02, 18/1/2021

No.3, We are one

"Consciousness" is always a singular form. So is the self. It indicates and reveals that we are one. Groningen; 21:21, 18/1/2021

No.4, Rain

It is raining now. Am I getting close to the rain or is it getting close to me? Or are both true? It is a fortuitous chance for me to reconsider the relationship between the rain and I. BTW, have you noticed a constructed ludicrous boundary line between the rain and I? Yes, both should not be demarcated, and both are one. Groningen; 06:32, 19/1/2021

No.5, Entreaty

Your delight is my delight. So, would you be delightful now? Your bliss is my bliss. So, would you be blissful now? Your self-satisfaction is my self-satisfaction. So, would you be self-satisfied now? Finally, your enlightenment is my enlightenment. So, would you be enlightened now? All of them are realizable right here, right now. Groningen; 07:11, 19/1/2021

No.6, Mother Earth's Hope

The mother earth says: "You might think that I have eternal life, but that is not true. As you die someday, I'll die, too. Some of you know my life expectancy. I'm also an organism with limited life, which might be little longer than yours, but the difference is infinitesimal from the perspective of the history of the universe. Even though my life is limited, why are you hastening my death? Why are you killing me? I hope you to understand that killing me is killing yourself." Groningen; 07:25, 19/1/2021

No.7, Minority Paradox

Our world has evolved due to diversity. Minority is key to diversity in our world. Yet, minority is often suffering and is often alienated in our society, which is paradoxical. Groningen: 07:52, 19/1/2021

No.8, Poetry

Poetry captures the fullness of momentariness in my life. It also reflects my attitude of being in that moment. So, poetry is a gem of my life and my being. Groningen; 08:59, 19/1/2021

No.9, Morpheus's Gift

Morpheus showed me two different pills; one is red, and the other is blue. He asked me to choose either one. I chose both of them to transform the real and virtual worlds because our reality is constructed not by separated worlds but by mixed and intertwined worlds.

---

Groningen; 09:36, 19/1/2021

No.10, A Function and Role of Poetry

Poetry is akin to exploring and opening up my unconscious world. A flood of images, feelings, and thoughts come up from there. Poetry is an agent or an avenue for the infinite creative source. Groningen; 10:23, 19/1/2021

No.11, Everybody can be a poet

Everybody can be a poet if he or she sees the world afresh at every moment. A poet always relishes being here and now. If you enjoy being here and now at this moment, you are an authentic and genuine poet. Groningen; 11:22, 19/1/2021

No.12, Poetry as Anamnesis

Poetry could be anamnesis. It is spawned from recollecting something important for our soul. Listen carefully to a voice of our soul. Once we can hear and grasp it, a new poem spontaneously emerges. Groningen; 12:06, 19/1/2021

No.13, Nationality as a Mere Fictional Construct

Inherently, nationality is a mere social construction. However, it strongly restricts our social life; in a worse scenario, it causes a futile war. When do we awake to notice that nationality is a fictional product? Groningen; 15:35, 19/1/2021

No.14, Readiness

Once I'm ready, a poem is ready to come up. Physical, mental, and spiritual readiness is crucial for giving birth to a poem. Groningen; 16:12, 19/1/2021

No.15, Toward the Attainment of a Borderless World

The Origin of Human-Made Problems: Where do any human-made problems come from? I suppose that they derive from a distortion of boundary lines that human psyche creates. To solve problems, let's dissolve the distortion or eliminate the dividing lines. If we can do that, a borderless world finally show up. Groningen; 16:37, 19/1/2021

No.16, The Shape of Time

What kind of shape does time have? Is it a line or a circle, or something else? It could have multiple shapes. As time changes its shape, we may feel time differently. Also, when we have a different kind of awareness about the shape of time, our feeling of time could be disparate. Groningen; 21:09, 19/1/2021

No.17, Music and Poetry

To me, music feels like poetry and vice versa. Music is poetry, and poetry is music for me. Do they have the same origin? In ancient Greek mythology, Apollo is recognised as a god of music and poetry, the Muses are also considered as goddesses of music and poetry. I can feel the divine power from both deities. Groningen; 21:19, 19/1/2021

No.18, Improvisation & Creation

My music, painting, and poetry emerge from improvisation. I can feel here and now in improvisation. Yes, improvisation has its inside. Once I enter it, I can have a sense of being alive. Aliveness is the source of life force. Aliveness is the mother of creation. Groningen; 06:14, 20/1/2021

---

No.19, A Creative Deluge

Fortunately, my creative garden is always flooded. The creative Noachian deluge comes to see me at every moment. It destroys everything, but creation comes after destruction. So, the inundation creates everything. When I create something, the creative deluge and I are one. Groningen; 06:26, 20/1/2021

No.20, Existence beyond Thoughts

Descartes stated "I think, therefore I am." The statement is true, but partial. I can find the subject, which I can call "I," exists beyond my thoughts. I can say: "I think, therefore a part of me emerges." "I-Amness" is much deeper than thoughts. Groningen; 10:33, 20/1/2021

No.21, Beyond the Limitations of Language

When we overcome the limitations of the language that constructs our present reality, we can transform our reality. Since so many practical realms and domains in our reality are restricted by daily language including mathematical and programming language, poetic language could be helpful to liberate our reality from the constraints of those languages. In that sense, any practitioner should be a poet to some extent. Groningen; 15:48, 20/1/2021

No.22, A New Line & a New Reality

When I drew a new line in the sky, the appearance altered. It was interesting to me, so I tried it again. The result of the second time was the same; the face of the reality changed. Groningen; 15:54, 20/1/2021

No.23, A Collage of Words

We can notice that each word has a unique and distinct colour and flavour; it looks like each of us is special and different. Do you know that we can draw a picture by means of words? Yes, we are a unique painter with a tool of words. Why don't we create a collage of words, which makes others happy? Groningen; 16:04, 20/1/2021

No.24, Poetic Healing

If our mental and spiritual diseases derive from how we use language, we can heal them if we change the way we use language. Here, poetry could play an important role because it encourages us to use language differently or uniquely. Once we use poetic language to see our mental and spiritual diseases, they might be healed. Making a poem can be therapeutic. Groningen; 16:26, 20/1/2021

No.25, Visit of My Friends

Silence and serenity came together at night. I welcomed both friends. They touched the surface of my heart, then they gently caressed the depth. I gave them a shining letter in return. Tomorrow will be bright. Groningen; 21:01, 20/1/2021

No.26, Wonderlands and Reality

Wonderlands are omnipresent in this world. Yet, the door of a wonderland is often veiled by the shadow of our awareness. We need to clean out the veil. Once we enter a wonderland, we will experience a state of non-ordinary consciousness. In the wonderland, we set us free from constraints of daily life, and we will notice that our reality always has multiple rich dimensions. Groningen; 21:13, 20/1/2021

---

No.27, A Miraculous Moment

I'm astounded by the fact that a star is already dead hundreds of millions of light-year ago when I see it on the earth. It's a miracle that I see the star.

When I see a person— —it doesn't matter whether the person is an acquaintance or not — —, I want to consider him or her to be a shining star. It is a miraculous moment to see someone in this universe. Groningen; 21:32, 20/1/2021

No.28, Morning Pondering

I'm wondering. Are winds and rain are close friends? Strong winds accompanied the rain. I'm wondering. Do they welcome me as their friend? I'm wondering. Where do they take me after I become their friend? I realise that they are not my friends but myself, and that they don't take me out anywhere because I always exist everywhere. Groningen; 07:28, 21/1/2021

No.29, Eternity

Eternity resides in the instant. We are intrinsically inseparable from every moment. Therefore, we are eternal. Therefore, we don't have to seek for eternity. Groningen; 07:32, 21/1/2021

No.30, Absurdity

What kind of air does pursue itself? What kind of water does look for itself? No air and water do such a preposterous thing. How about humans? Unfortunately, they seem to always strive for seeking themselves. Groningen; 07:39, 21/1/2021

No.31, Fabrications in Our Society

Our society manipulates and expands our ego almost in an artistic way. Modern people live in a gigantic story based on a flood of lies and deceits fabricated by the society. Also, the society facilitates our self-aggrandizement that is limitless. True freedom and altruism are brought about only after we debunk multi-dimensional fabrications in our society. Groningen; 11:14, 21/1/2021

No.32, The Informational Panopticon and Dark Web

The sophisticated informational panopticon is built in our society, which monitors our activities for 24 hours. Under the kingdom of the surveillant, the dark web is also active in a surreptitious manner.

Darkness exists due to the existence of light. Did distorted enlightenment cause the panopticon and dark web? What kind of new light is required in the modern society? Groningen; 14:19, 21/1/2021

No.33, Judgment

Whenever we make a judgment, we utilise a certain type of measurement— —it could be biological, economical, sociological, psychological, political, and mathematical, etc. When we judge someone, the judged person use the same measurement to judge us. Groningen; 14:30, 21/1/2021

---

No.34, I-Amness, Allness, and Emptiness

The All (or The One, The Absolute, etc) is equal to I-Amness. I-Amness is empty. Allness and emptiness are freely being manifested at every moment, both of which are completely liberated from anything. Groningen; 16:05, 21/1/2021

No.35, Live as Freedom, Formfulness, and Emptiness

Do not live in freedom, but as freedom.

Do not live in formfulness and emptiness, but as those.

Because we are inherently free, formful, and empty.

Groningen; 16:10, 21/1/2021

No.36, Farewell to Your Ego

Almost all of the sufferings come from our captivity in our ego. The only way to emancipate us from the sufferings is to bid farewell to our ego. Once we cease to be a prisoner for our ego, our sufferings would be gone. Groningen; 16:22, 21/1/2021

No.37, Nature and Emancipation

Nature makes us humble.

Nature gives us a feeling of awe.

Humbleness and a feeling of reverence for Nature help us overcome our confinement in our ego.

Groningen; 16:32, 21/1/2021

No.38, Our Society Needs Your Shout

Shout, shout, shout.

Shout from the bottom of your heart.

Our society desperately needs your therapeutic and transformative shout.

Groningen; 20:42, 21/1/2021

No.39, Language and Understanding of Reality

Honing our language expands our reality. Most of the parts of our reality are constructed by language. As Wittgenstein points out, the limitation of our language is that of our comprehension of reality. Poetic language might be helpful to stretch the horizon of our language, which would result in enhancing our understanding of reality. Groningen; 21:00, 21/1/2021

No.40 Darkness as an Eternal Friend

A new day came, but daybreak has not come yet. Darkness embraces me and soothes my soul. It is a gentle membrane for me. Darkness is my eternal friend. Groningen; 06:23, 22/1/2021

No.41 Dream Symbol: Dark Matter

I had a dream about dark matter that seems to exist around Pluto. In the dream, my father conducted scientific research on the possibility of peaceful use of the material. According to my father, the material can make anything vanish into space. I was wondering that it could be utilised for peaceful use, but I thought peaceful use of nuclear energy does not work very well by any standard. Once we utter the word "peaceful use," we unintentionally create the opposite meaning, which causes the present disastrous situation about the use of nuclear energy. Groningen; 06:43, 22/1/2021

---

No.42, Three Worlds

In Ogun mythology, the world consists of three different ones; the world of ancestors, the world of living people, and the world of posterity. Do we really do a good thing every day for all of the three worlds? Get out of a myopic view only to see the present world — — though we have to care about the modern world more deeply — —, and expand your views to see the past and future worlds. Groningen; 09:02, 22/1/2021

No.43 A True Poet

A true poet plays a role to enhance and beautify our life through his or her words. His or her poems can build a fraternal bridge between all people and all nations. Groningen; 09:22, 22/1/2021

No.44, Our Endless Journey

Journey, journey, journey.
Our outer journey in the world has a certain destination.
We end the journey to get there.
But our inner journey has no destinations.
It is endless.
Groningen; 09:54, 22/1/2021

No.45 A Lesson from the Divine Nature of a Little Bird

The divine nature of a little bird is singing a song right now.
Today is a beautiful day.
Today is a wonderful day.
An indwelling divinity of the little bird asks me: “Can you hear not only my song but also your inner voice? If not, you may listen to too many miscellaneous outer voices in the hectic world.”
Groningen; 10:20, 22/1/2021

No.46 Viruses

COVID-19 has been rampant all over the worlds.
It is a detrimental virus to human beings.
Yet, the human race is a kind of deleterious virus for the earth.
We shouldn't make the earth a virus for other planets; all of us share the same responsibility for that.
Groningen; 13:04, 22/1/2021

No.47, Ears

My outer ears capture outermost music, and my inner ears catch innermost music.
Opening the senses of both two types of ears delivers me to the music-saturated world.
Groningen; 15:02, 22/1/2021

No.48, I Owe You

I owe you very much.
Music, painting, and poetry, nourish my soul so deeply.
I owe you very much.

---

Music, painting, and poetry, enrich my life so deeply.
I owe you very much.
Music, painting, and poetry, help me climb a ladder to the heaven.
Groningen; 15:46, 22/1/2021

No.49 The Circular Universe
From here to the air to the city to the country to the world to the universe to me.
Groningen; 16:17, 22/1/2021

No.50, Slavery in the Morden Society
Seeing, seeing, seeing,
people are seeing only what they want to see.
They are slaves of "filter bubbles."
Wanting, wanting, wanting,
people are desperately wanting something through "conspicuous consumption."
Groningen; 20:31, 22/1/2021